INTRODUCING A POCKET SIZED POWERHOUSE

The skin, our largest organ, is remarkable. It protects and cushions us, and acts as a very effective waterproof barrier. It is this natural attribute that contributes to difficulty of achieving effective results with topically applied skincare. It is extremely difficult to get enough active ingredients past this waterproof barrier.

The Focus-CIT is a small, portable device designed to aid in the assistance of penetration of Environ serums into the skin, created to treat smaller treatment areas such as a frown line or small pigmentation patch. Using tiny needles to penetrate the stratum corneum of the skin to enhance the penetration of the active vitamins in the creams. It's small compact size makes it perfect for travel too. Only - $59⁹⁵

The Vitamin A Ladder

One of the key benefits with Environ's AVST Moisturising treatments is their use of Vitamin A (retinyl palmitate and acetate). Vitamin A is the anti-ageing ingredient that minimises pigmentation, pores size and through the increase in collagen and elastin, reduces fine lines. The higher level of Vitamin A, the better the results. However, you must condition your skin to accept higher doses of Vitamin A, and this is where Environ have developed the Vitamin A ladder in their AVST range. Starting at AVST 1, the aim is to slowly progress up the ladder through to AVST 5.

AVST 1: This moisturiser contains the lowest dose of vitamin A (retinyl palmitate) in the range and is particularly intended for young or hyper-sensitive skin. It does not contain a sunscreen but can be used day and night.

AVST 2: Normalising/preparatory stage

AVST 3: Normalise and increase collagen production

AVST 4: Stabilise and thicken Skin

AVST 5: The highest level of vitamin A (retinyl acetate) for perfect skin

AVST Moisture Gel: This is the mildest vitamin A (retinyl palmitate) water based preparation and is recommended for sensitive, congested or oily or reactive skins.

Ask your skin therapist about starting on the Vitamin A ladder for perfect skin.

Welcome Back.

Hello everyone!

I have returned home after 2 years living and working in London as a nanny! After looking after 4 kids you can imagine I am very much looking forward to getting back into beauty therapy and catching up with you all! Living in London was fantastic, met so many people, made a lot of friends and managed to see most of Europe. I've had some amazing holidays and experiences, I'm so glad I did it! I have travelled for 6 weeks on my way home from London with my friend Rachael. Highlights of our trip was doing a 4 day blue cruise at the south of Turkey, sleeping on the boat and sunbathing and swimming everyday with other great people on our tour. Our Egypt tour was also a highlight, another really fun bunch of people in our tour group, seeing the pyramids, riding camels and sailing down the Nile River for 3 days on falluccas!

I am really looking forward to seeing you all again soon back at All About All and hearing how you all have been!

Hayley :)
